Three of his recent projects have been Group 8 tree planting at O'Halloran Hill, in the sink helping Magill Sunrise cook for Campbelltown, and cooking the breakfast with Holdfast Bay for the 3000 Bay to Birdwood participants and spectators. Over 1000 meals were served.

Sergeant's Session

There was no Sergeant's session this evening, but Sharon Tirrell and Wayne Ross won the raffle that was conducted at the Glass Gallery with the prizes kindly donated by Eamonn Vereker.

Guest Speaker – Eamonn Vereker

Eamonn Vereker was introduced by Sheila Evans, a fellow Irish person. Eamonn welcomed everyone to his gallery where we were indeed made to feel very welcome. We were entertained on the Harp by his very talented daughter and had demonstrations of glass blowing going through out the night. Eamonn has had his glassware purchased by John Howard, George Bush and also pieces have been purchased by HM the Queen, with approximately 60 pieces having gone back to house of Lords.

Eamonn explained how he came to Adelaide quite a few years ago for a weekend and was offered a job. After 6 months after returning home to Ireland he returned to Adelaide where he worked for Budgerigar Glass until that closed down. Following that he worked at the Jam Factory until he moved to his current place and has been there for ten years. He loves Adelaide and does not regret the move at all. He is married to a wonderfully talented lady called Noreen and they have three children. Eamonn announced that once a month on the last Saturday he has a promotional evening, similar to the function we had, where people come and enjoy music, wine, cheese and bread and watch the demonstrations. If any one is interested bookings are essential.

A VERY SPECIAL THANKYOU to Sheila and her Team: Adrian and Pam, Martin and Angie, and Helen. It was great to see all the new members volunteering and making the night a success.
