Announcements from President Stephen

Acting President Greg McLeod reminded the club that rosters are published in the bulletin for various activities and duties. It is the responsibility of Rotarians to read these and make sure they can attend or find a substitute to take on the duties for them

Spots

Ron Schubert spoke about the forthcoming programme, details are published in the Bulletin each week. Ron highlighted the 20th February and the talk by Steven Trigg, CEO of the Adelaide Football Club. Ron also asked members to put April 10th into the diary as this will be the club's anniversary and some form of party is envisaged.

Bob Laws advised some details for the plan for the Vocational visit to the Australian Weather bureau. Bob also told the club that he had received a letter from Bridget Young the club's first female member who now resides in Norfolk in England and has continued her Rotary membership with the Norwich club and is now the Assistant District Treasurer. Bridget hopes to visit Adelaide in August/September and would like to visit the club.

Bob Mills advised the club that it was the time of the year when the Police Officer of the Year campaign begins and posters were expected to be circulated soon. Bob brought with him some past publicity from the Police magazine on the launch of the programme.

Greg Love and Greg McLeod separately advised the club of plans from the Rotary Club of Playford to hold a Quiz Night on St. Patrick's Day (17th March for the ignorant). Proceeds to go to Donations in Kind. See Diary Dates for more details. Greg Love is trying to organise a table and a list of those wanting to attend was circulated. Contact Greg if you would like to attend

Due to illness in the Singh family Rohan was unable to attend the meeting as guest speaker. It was decided it would be an evening for some fellowship, with no one speaking.

Joke for the Week

A shepherd was herding his flock in a remote pasture when a BMW advances out of the dust towards him. The driver, a young man in a Broni suit, Gucci shoes, Ray Ban sunglasses and D+G tie, leans out the window and asks the shepherd, "If I tell you exactly how many sheep you have in your flock, will you give me one?"

"Sure," says the shepherd, intrigued.

The yuppie parks his car, whips out his Dell notebook, connects it to his cell phone, calls up a GPS satellite navigation and imaging system. He then accesses a MS-SQL database through an ODBC connected Excel spreadsheet with hundreds of complex formulas. He uploads all of this data via an email to his Blackberry, prints out a full-colour report on his miniaturized HP LaserJet printer and finally turns to the shepherd and says, "You have exactly 1586 sheep."

"That's right. Well, I guess you can take one of my sheep," says the shepherd. He looks on as the young man stuffs one of the animals into the trunk of his car.

Then the shepherd says "Hey, if I can tell you exactly what your business is, will you give me back my animal?" The young man says, "Okay, why not?"

"You're a consultant," says the shepherd.

"Wow!" says the yuppie. "How did you guess?"

"You showed up here even though nobody called you; you want to get paid for an answer I already knew, to a question I never asked, and you know absolutely nothing about my business," said the shepherd. "Now give me back my dog."

Quote of the Week

"They've finally come up with the perfect office computer. If it makes a mistake, it blames another computer. "
