Ten Pin Bowling Night

The elite of Unley's ten pin bowling talent did battle at the Cross Road Bowl.

The three stars of the night were in order of merit John Peacham (128), Bob Laws (118) and Joan Reed (117).

There were plenty of excuses among the rest including damaged tendons, hangovers, insufficient experience (no talent) and general infirmity.

Guest Sandra Schirmer acquitted herself well but husband Sergeant Colin piked.

Program Director Stephen Baker concluded that challenging one of our group clubs to a ten pin bowling challenge was not a sound idea.

Gourmet chips and spring rolls were served.

Hope everyone has recovered - the night was fun!

Program Director Stephen Baker tried his best to get good bowling scores.

Conviction Synopsis: When Betty Anne Waters' (Hilary Swank) older brother Kenny (Sam Rockwell) is arrested for murder and sentenced to life in 1983, Betty Anne, a Massachusetts wife and mother of two, dedicates her life to overturning the murder conviction.

Convinced that her brother is innocent, Betty Anne puts herself through high school, college and, finally, law school in an 18 year quest to free Kenny. With the help of best friend Abra Rice (Minnie Driver), Betty Anne pores through suspicious evidence mounted by small town cop Nancy Taylor (Melissa Leo), meticulously retracing the steps that led to Kenny's arrest. Belief in her brother and her quest for the truth pushes Betty Anne and her team to uncover the facts and utilize DNA evidence with the hope of exonerating Kenny.

Adult $16 Child $8.00 (<6 free) Rotary Clubs of Glenelg and Holdfast Bay Breakfast on the Pat 2011.

The Rotary Clubs of Glenelg and Holdfast Bay are again holding their "Breakfast on the Pat" to raise money for the Australian Rotary Health Research Fund. This fund is one of the largest non-government research funds in the country. In 2009-10 the fund deployed 3 million dollars for research into medical needs in Australia. This research covers a large field of medical problems.

One of the major tasks undertaken by the fund is research into mental health and that is something our breakfasts have highlighted in the past. Recently, although not taking the focus off mental health awareness and research, "Breakfast on the Pat" focuses on other fields of research into various forms of cancer, rural health needs and a strong emphasis on improving indigenous health with training of indigenous doctors. By making up or joining a table at the next breakfast on 20th February 2011 at 9:00 a.m. on the eastern bank of the Patawalonga Lake, you will be supporting a very worthy cause as well as enjoying a delicious breakfast amongst friends. The breakfast will consist of fruit juice, cereal, eggs, bacon, tomato, sausage, toast, tea and coffee. We look forward to seeing you and your friends on the morning.

On the Back Page

Deep, Very Deep

Two men came upon a mine shaft out in the hills. "How deep do you think it is?" asked one. "Gosh, I don't know," said his mate. "Let's drop a stone in and listen for it to hit the bottom." They did so and waited, but there was no sound.

They found a larger rock and threw it in; still nothing. A short distance away, they spotted an old railway sleeper. Each lifted an end and with great difficulty they dropped it in. Still there was no sound. As they waited, a goat ran right between them and jumped into the hole.

They were standing there scratching their heads when a third fellow came up and asked them, "Have you seen a goat?"

"Well, yes, as a matter of fact," replied the first man. "A goat just ran past us and jumped into that shaft."

"It couldn't have been my goat," said the third fellow. "Mine was tied to a railway sleeper."

Bragging

Three mice walked into a pub.

The first mouse bragged, "When I see a mousetrap, I set it off. As the bar comes down, I catch it in my teeth then eat the cheese."

The second mouse bragged, "Well, when I see rat poison, I grind it and add it to my coffee to build up my strength."

The third mouse said, "I can't stay long. I've got a date with a cat."

Fear of Flying

Two caterpillars were chomping on some leaves when a large butterfly flew by. One of the caterpillars said to his companion, "You'd never get me up in one of those!"

No Entry

Because the caretaker of a building refused to unlock the door, my son-in-law, a fire-fighter, and his colleague could not carry out a safety inspection. Finally he warned the caretaker, "If you don't open it, we'll use our universal key."

"There's no such thing," scoffed the caretaker. With that, my son-in-law's colleague went to their vehicle and returned with a sledge hammer.

Customer Service

Being the first person to arrive at a high-tech company one morning, he answered the telephone. When the caller asked for field engineering, he explained that it was before normal business hours but that he would help if he could.

"What's your job there?" he asked.

"I'm the managing director," he replied.

There was a pause. Then he said, "I'll call back later. I need to talk to someone who knows something."

Birth Control

"Do you know what is the most effective method of birth control?" asked the teacher in a sex-education lesson.

"No," answered the pupils.

"Correct," he replied.
